

Step out and give our region a go

By TIM BRABAN

timothy.braban@thechronicle.com.au

THE Chronicle is about to start an exciting new section aimed at letting readers know what is happening around the region every weekend.

Called "Getting Out" or GO, the section, appearing every Friday, will feature great ideas on how to spend the weekend, whether you're looking to get outdoors and experience the sights of the Toowoomba region or wanting to visit one of the exciting events coming up on the calendar.

This week's GO will look at the Redwood Park Open Day taking place in Toowoomba's own endangered dry rainforest and some of the unique artisan workshops available at the Cobb & Co Museum.

Friends of the Escarpment Parks president Hugh Krenske said the Redwood Park Open Day had a bit of something for everyone.

If you have any great ideas on events or escapes that could feature in GO, don't hesitate to contact Tim Braban on 4690 9377 or timothy.braban@thechronicle.com.au and be sure to pick up a copy of The Chronicle tomorrow for your preview of the weekend's events.

GETTING READY: Getting ready for this Saturday's Redwood Park Open Day are (from left) Ray Addison, Mike McGoldrick and Hugh Krenske.

PICTURE: DAVE NOONAN

GO Getting Out |

Life